

Student Performance Maximized

Privacy Policy

Your privacy is very important to PREPWORKS, and we aim to protect it at all times.

Sharing of Information

We don't share the information you have given us without your permission.

Information Collected

In order to provide personalized services, we will collect personally identifiable information from you when you purchase our products or services. This will be information that we need to render these services, i.e. your name, address, performance level, or email. We collect and store only information is necessary for our business; we will not sell or share your information with any other business.

Schools

We work with schools and institutions to provide our test preparation programs. PREPWORKS may share personally identifiable information that you provide to us through your participation in these school programs with your school, district and parents. In addition, your school may require us to share your information with others legally entitled to access your academic records, such as your state department of education.

To increase quality of instruction, we may share individual student records and results with school administrators or counselors who already have access to a student's official test scores. If statistics are released to non-authorized individuals, we will remove any identifying information.

Sharing of Information

The privacy of individual user data for school administrators, teachers, parents, and students is always respected and protected. We will never disclose, sell, or rent personal information that identifies any of our students without specific authorization to do so. Only the student, the teacher, the school administration, and the parent(s) have access to this information. Each school has agreed to maintain the confidentiality of this information. PREPWORKS retains the right to release aggregate performance information provided this information is not personally identifiable by district, school or individual students and teachers.

Marketing Lists

From time to time, we obtain lists of people who may be interested in our products and services from third-party marketing list suppliers. We use these lists to send direct marketing promotions by mail. We do our best to only obtain these lists from suppliers who have opt-in policies for third-party marketing, but we are not responsible for the conduct and policies of these suppliers. Please note that even if you are a customer of ours and have asked us not to use the information you provided to us to send promotional material, a third-party marketing list supplier could still provide us with your name and address, in which case you will receive the promotional material sent by us to others on the supplier's list.
